

Year 1 Home Learning - Tuesday 26th November 2024

We will miss seeing your smiling faces at school today. Please look below for some home learning ideas.

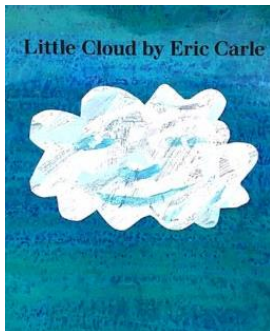

Phonics

Have a go at playing The Dinosaur's Eggs phonics game. Please focus on our new split digraph sounds (circled in red) a-e, i-e, o-e and u-e.

English

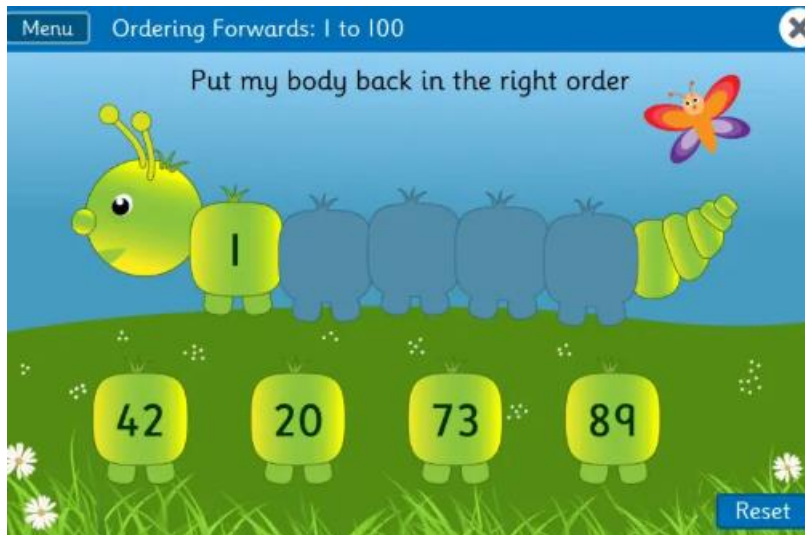

Yesterday you watched the video of our book this week - Little Cloud by Eric Carle.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OVvGOOc4uQk>

Little Cloud changed into a sheep, an aeroplane, a shark and even two trees. What would you change Little Cloud into?

See if you can come up with three ideas. You could draw your new cloud shapes, collage them with cotton wool, make them out of Lego or even draw them in a sprinkling of flour. (Ask your grown ups before making a mess though!) Then using your phonics label each new shape.

Maths

Go to the website using the link above, click on the picture, then sequencing, simple sequences, counting in ones 0-100. Can you add the missing numbers each time? For an extra challenge, choose 100-0 and see if you can do this counting backwards from any number.

RaW (Religion and Worldviews)

In RaW this week we are going to be learning all about Advent for Christians. Following this we would like to create our very own class Advent Calendar full of acts of kindness in the hope of spreading some joy in school. For example:

- *Sit with someone different at lunch and ask them about their day.
- *Share a smile with 5 people today.
- *Hold a door open for someone.

Your challenge is to think of some of your own acts of kindness for our class calendar and maybe even carry one out. Maybe you could say hello on a family walk, ring up a family member and ask them about their day or even write a thank you note for the bin collectors. (Please make sure a grown-up is happy for you to do this.) Have fun spreading a little joy!

Take care! We can't wait to see you all back at school.

Team 1 😊
